

1 - Dangerous Ideas

Ideas that are not generally accepted are dangerous ideas

Relation to Trigger Warnings

One big connection that I saw between these two readings was that, essentially, trigger warnings are a way to prepare students for content that may be seen as a dangerous idea. This helps prevent inadvertent censoring of students' ideas. While the content that provokes trigger warnings could be viewed as dangerous ideas by many people, trigger warnings prepare students to experience the content in a safe manner
